There are five Fall Overcoats bought to-day for two bought five years ago. The reason is partly in the fashion: still more in the Overcoats. The reason for getting a Fall Overcoat made to order has gone almost to wreck. One out of five sees why he must get his made that way. The rest can get just the Overcoat they want without it.

We have Silk-Lined and without. Some made up one shape; some another. They fit. That's enough. They fit so perfectly, however, that a man is to blame himself, who doesn't get one that looks as well as if made for him.

We wouldn't dare to say so much, if we hadn't both the handsomest Fall Overcoats in the city, and the best variety. We have so many because we are going to make this store the headquarters for the young and the dressy men who wear them. We don't care to work out our plan piecemeal. Our prices are as liberal. for the shorts to settle their trades in, they went into the pit this morning and began to buy against each other, with the result that the price mounted rapidly, that when it reached $1.25 Hutchinson sent the shorts word that he had a little wheat to sell; that they flocked to his office where he disposed of $25,-00 bushels at $1.25 in a very short time; that he then, after telling that wheat would go to $2 within a week, he went away to his club, leaving instructions with his brokers to sell the shorts all the wheat they wanted at $1.25, or buy all they would sell at $1.24. There is a suspicion that Hutchinson also has most of the December wheat, and in consequence that option went up to $1.

wheat, and in consequence that option went up to 31.

ON THE BULL SIDE.

It begins to look as though the big bears of former years had taken the bull side. Ream and Cudahy, at least, were enormous buyers on this morning's breaks, as were Mitchell, McCormick & Co., and of course Hutchinson. Dick Race, the plunger, who made and lost a moderate fortune on the bull turn a year or so ago also took on about 250,000 bushels. No one seemed to pay any attention to the reports of a better harvest in France than had been counted on. The millions of bushels of wheat thrown over by the longs and by the bears who were trying to break the market were readily absorbed and an bour after the opening December sold at 178c, which was a triffe above its closing price last night. Shorts in October futures were getting very nervous. The future was the below Docember at one time yesterday, but this morning it pulled alongside and went to be premium.

NEW YORK, September 27, 2:30 p. m.—The excitement in the grain trade at Chicago affected the market here but little, September wheat advancing only 1% cents.

Hardships of Shot-Gun Quarantine

JACKSON, Miss., September 27.-The trouble over. The main difficulties lie in dealing with ing country. There have been no cases since turday and no deaths since Sunday and the outlook is most encouraging.

In spite of the fact that the fever has let up here the strict and violent quarantine measure against this place are still maintained. It was decided by the health authorities Tuesday that they would establish a refuge camp on the Yozoo branch, a few miles from town near Anna Station. When the commission went out to make arrangements they were stopped and not allowed to pass the quaran

The supplies, both of provisions and medi ines, have run so low that something had to be done instantly, and Mr. Whitworth of the with. He will suggest that drunken and disorderly persons be sent to Camp Mitchell until in proper coudition to be cared for at Camp Perry. Surgeon Hutton telegraphs from Camp Perry requesting fifty wall tents im-mediately. He says the camp is healthy and no well defined case of fever has developed in ten days.

Houston, Tex., September 27 .- Yesterday afternoon, on the arrival of the east-bound Southern Pacific train, Deputy State Health officer John Gray arrested A. D. Deckard, a nail clerk, running into this city, on a charge of circulating false rumors concerning the existence of yellow fever in Texas. Deckard was released on bail. A correspondent met Mr. Deckard, who stated that while the train was at Sartartia, he, in conversation with a gentleman named W. H. Morrow, jokingly remarked that there was yellow fever at Or-ange, and that he had no idea of circulating any such rumors. The only reason he said what he did was in reply to a jest of Mr. Morrow. Edison's Experiments.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch.

NEW YORK, September 27.—Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, since the middle of the son, the inventor, since the middle of the month, has been conducting a series of experiments in order to discover some cheap and effective way to desiroy the germs of yellow fever. "That the serms are carried in the air is a ridiculous idea, because the fever would at once spread all over a district," he said to a reporter yesterday, "and just as plainly are the germs organic and not inorganic, because their spread is always stopped by the coming of coid weather. I am, therefore, forced to one of two conclusions—either the fever germs must be animal organisms or they must be fungus growth. I believe that the fever microbes are parasites which crawl along the ground, as in several instances their spread has been known to have been stopped by street pavements. I began first experimenting in 1878 to find some chemical to destroy the Colorado beeties. I tried every kind of chemical substance on the becties and found gasoline to be the most effective. As we have not had yellow fever germs, we have been experimenting on insects which are extremely tenacious of life. A glass jar was filled with mouldings, and at depths of 7, 18, 18, 24, 25 and 36 centimeters from the surface. Little cell prisons were made with their open ends against the glass. Ants were placed in these cells and a layer of gasoline, 6.6 centimeters in thickness, was poured on the surface of the same. The seven centimeter ants died at the end of sixteen minutes, the 16 at the end of 19 minutes, the 19 atter 40 minutes, which appeared stupefied. However, the next morning the three lowest grades had recovered. Existencery experiments were also made on clams, earth worms and cheese mites.

"The only way to stop the spread of the dis-in damp places. A square yard could be tovered with caustic sods in a depth of one-eighth of an inch for it cause, and no organism could possibly survive it. In a room heated to 35 deg. a cost was dipped in rhigoline, and in fifteen minutes the temperature of the cost feit to 25 deg., and the cost was covered with hoar frost. Now as cold weather is known affectually to destroy the fever microbes, this would prove an effective way of disinfecting clothing, as the rhigoline will avaporate within half an hour."

"Experiment has shown that after the gasciline has been applied for ten minutes it coaks into the soil and there is no danger of its besoming ignited. A whole year has been wasted, which should have been given to experiments on the means of checking yellow lever at the South. I shall have a ling yellow lever at the South. I shall have a ling yellow lever at the South. I shall have a ling yellow lever at the South. I shall have a ling yellow lever at the South. I shall have a ling yellow lever at the South. Frost at Helena, Ark.

By Telegraph to the Post-Disparcit.

HELENA, Ark., September 27. — The first troot of the season fell this morning in the elevated portions of the city, the guards at the quarantine camps in the suburbs reporting quarantine camps in the suburos reporting fack Frost's visit at 60 'clock. At 7:30 the thermometer registered 50. The citizens are feeling greatly relieved to-day and no fears of Yellow Jack's advent are now entertained, while Jack Frost was indeed a welcome visitor. As last night's frost will certainly be intensified before many nights the quarantine will doubtless be reised in a few days and pent up business boom once more.

The Decision of Judge Brewer in the M., K & T. Case To-Day. When Judge Brewer took his seat in the United States District Court this morning to for a Receiver, made by the bondholders of the present quite a gathering of gentlemen inter-seted in the question.

Judge Brewer's opinion was a very long one and occupied nearly an hour in reading. He carefully went over the case and dwelf at length upon the law points involved therein. In summing up the matter he said that while there were many reasons why a receiver should not be appointed, still in equity such an action would be eminently just in as much as, in equity, the bondholders were the real owners of the read. This fact and the further considerations that the road had defaulted the interest on its bonds, that is had run down until the prospects for its reparation under existing conditions were almost nething, and that the bondholders themselves would be at a greater loss should the condition maintain, led him to the conclusion that the petition should be granted and that a receiver be appointed. This now he was prepared to do but before naming anyone he would desire the parties interested to make some suggestions as to the name of the receiver. He would be ready in the afternoon to receive any suggestion from the attorneys, and in case they should fail to come to any agreement on the matter, he would then take it into his own hands and make the appointment himself.

The court now adjourned and the attorneys on both sides left the chamber to meet later in the day and consider the matter.

An attempt was made yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Mary Slater to secure possession of her child, Edna Robbins, who has been living with Mrs. Ella Loyd, her aunt, at 6446 Virginia avenue (Carondelet). Mrs. Mary Slater was formerly the wife of R, H. Robbins (now deceased), from whom she was divorced. She was given the custody of the child, but Mrs. Loyd chaims she abandoned it on several occasions. Mrs. Loyd, who is a daughter of R. H. Robbins by a previous marriage, took charge of Edna and refused to give her up to Mrs. Blater. Yesterday atternoon Mrs. Blater, another woman and a man attempted to take the child by force from 656 Virginia avenue, but were frightened away. The child was badly hurt in the struggle.

An Engineer's Fatal Jump! Faulkner, an engineer on the Mobile & Ohio Railroad, was killed a half mile south of Alto Pass, just below this county, this morning, while going south on No. 17. The axie of the tender broke. Faulkner reversed his engine and jumped, fearing, doubtless, that the cars behind would pile upon him. The cars behind fell over on him, killing him instantly. He was about 35 years old, and about a year ago married a Miss Vickery at Tococa, Habbershaw County, Ga. He carried life insurance to the amount of $5,000. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

The last parts of a variety or minstrel performer to get away from the vandeville stage are his legs. When one of them has graduated into comedy there is still a tendency to caper, to turn on his feet or tangle up his legs. This is extremely evident in Hallen and Hart. Both seem possessed of the erroneous idea that a large share of their talents lies in their legs. Hallen does some marked imitation of Evans on the sofa, but he is not so bad as Hart, who attempts to do a large part of his acting with his legs to the detriment of his part, which should be developed rather by headwork than leg work. Both need repression, and Hallen should shut down on his impulse to handle the ladies of the company on the stage. Some of his seenes verge on valgarity. There is otherwise some clever work in "Later On." Mr. Dyllyn and Miss Portous being particularly good in singing.

Mrs. Kelly's story was a strange one. She is a married woman with two children, and she says that after she had retired to bed Monday night with the family she noticed the shadow of some person in the roem. It was about 11:300 clock. She was very sleepy and paid no attention to it, supposing it was her oldest boy Eddie. Presently she felt a hand laid on her and looking up sharply saw a strange mandow the intruder jumped out of bed and through the kitchen window, with the enraged Mr. Kelly after him. The man was overtaken by Kelly. The fellow was minus his coat, hat and shoes, and was recognized as a neighbor, Thomas Fitzmorris. Mr. Dierkes issued a warrant for indecent assault against Fitzmorris.

A Kansas woman stood on the platform at the Union Depot last night with two babes, about two months old, in her arms, and two other small children at her feet. When asked if they were two sets of twins she raplied: "Yes, and all boys. Those two standing there are four years old. Their names are Blaine and Logan, and these two in my arms are Harrison and Morton."

"You missed it on the first two," remarked a by stander. "I hope you will have better luck this time."

"Oh, I recton I will," she replied, and she got on her train.

he had worn femsie attire only since last July, and that he came to Providence from Boston in April. He pleaded gulity to the charge of being a lewd and wanton person in speech and behavior, and a sentence of three years in the State Work-house was imposed.

In an interview later he said that he was born in Boston and always lived there until last April. He never wanted to wear boy's clothing when a child, but was compelled to wear them when about 7 or 8 years old. Soon after his father died and he left his mother, and procering girl's clothing donned female attire and went to live with a family named Cordin in South Boston. He lived with them till he was 17 years old and was known only as a girl. At that age he left to marry a man named Leon King of Boston. The ceremony was performed by a Bost n clergyman, and not till after they were married was his sex discovered by King. They lived together three years and then separated. A year ago last April he was arrested in Chelsea on a charge of picking a man's pockets. Then his sex was divuiged.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 27.-People in the vicinity of 208 West Randolph street noticed yesterday afternoon a rather large and excited woman rushing into a little millinery she disappeared in the doorway a loud pistol report was heard, followed by a female shriek. An officer hastened to the scene just in time to catch the infuriated woman's arm as she was about to take a second aim at a woman lying prostrate on the floor, who was found to be a sister to her assailant. The would-be murderess said her name was Ada Dolan. She did not deny having shot at her sister, Agnes Russet, but rather expressed regret that her aim was not truer. All she would say in explanation was that Agnes had stolen her little boy. Twice yesterday she nad made trips to the Desplaines street station and told her story, but the police did not think it worthy of investigation. shriek. An officer hastened to the scene just story, but the police did not think it worthy of investigation.

Agnes was trembling over her narrow escape and the shock caused by the builet which had grazed her face. She said her sister Ads and her husband were boarding with her at 208, and for some reason, probably a domestic quarrel, Mr. Dolan, who is a sewing machine agent, had left his wife. Mrs. Dolan then went to 21 Gold street, leaving her 5-year-old boy with Miss Russet. Mrs. Dolan then went to 22 Gold street, leaving her 5-year-old boy with Miss Russet. Mrs. Dolan called Monday and was told that the boy was visiting another married sister, Louise, on Madison street. Then, Agnes says, Ada began to tear around as if she were crasy, and accused her of stealing the boy from her. The other sister went to Wisconsin yesterday morning. Agnes said the whole affair was one of jeal-ousy; that Mrs. Dolan did not like the idea of her husband boarding with her.

Boston, Mass., September 27.—John L. Sullivan is slowly mending at the Triton cottage.

That is why a million families buy the cottober number (now on the news stands-six cents) and a million will buy the December number.

There is another reason for getting the number between. It is going to be a great Thanks-giving number.

Harrison seconded McAuliffe and Jack Willlams Kerrigan. Billy Mahony was the referee and Joe Lannon and Jas. Smith judges. Kerrigan was the first to enter the ring. He was very fat, but he was also very sturdy and strong,
and his round bull-head looked as though it would resist even the blows of a club. He wore dark new tights and a white belt.
McAuliffe appeared to be in the best condition, but his face did not have a healthy look.
He wore dark-blue full length fighting tights and low shoes. After shaking hands the men squared for the fight.

The men faced each other and time was called. They fought ten fierce and bloody rounds and seemed to be about evenly matched. The judges conferred a moment and then declared the fight a draw. Many good judges did not think that McAuliffe showed np as strong as he used to be, but the fact is that he has never met as clever a man as Kerrigan.

As soon as the big event was over Tom Lees,
the Australian, and Walter Goode mounted the stage. Lees is fully 6 feet high and he towered over Goode. The instant time was called he danced around the ring on his toes in a very had way for a big man. Then he went for Goode, and in less than a minute he had him bleeding like a stuck pig. The spectators soon saw that Goode had no chance and most of them demanded that he be taken away. The referee then stopped the fight and gave the victory to Lees.

Facts About Fulljames.

George Fulljames, who was killed in a prize fight with an "unknown" at Grand Forks, fight with an "unknown" at Grand Forks, Dak., last Friday, was well known in the sporting circles of Detroit, says the Free Press. In his day Fulljames was one of the best middle weights in the country, and while he lived in Philadelphia he held the champjon belt for a while. He was last seen here about two years ago, when he seconded sam Bittle in the bloody fight with Harry Gilmore on Harsen's Island May 28, 1886. Bittle won. He is a middle weight and Gilmores alight weight. All the spectators of the fight conceded that Bittle would have been 'bested' had it not been for Fulljames at his sibow, who generaled Bittle's side of the battle, giving him the benefit of his long and able experience. When the police threatened to arrest all those who sided and abetted the fight Fulljames disappeared, and has not been seen here since. He had intely located in Winnipeg.

names, this time siurring me as an ex-saloon-keeper. Well, I have been in the grocery business and have had a saloon, and have made enough money to start and maintain the champion base ball club of the Association—an institution of which any St. Louisan with a grain of pride in his make-up is a friend. Of course, its existence may not be particularly agreeable to base ball reporters who have axes to grind, and who mailgn me and my team because they can't work their points. It is a matter of congratulation that I have been in the saloon business rather than posing as a sort of puglilist, looking for a scrao. The Republic's young man reminds one of the individual who tried to interfere between the Irishman and his wife. Before he had completed his side of the bargain all hands turned in and licked him. The pile driver tried to champion the Athletic Club's cause, but even whe latter have repudlated him. Messrs. Whittaker and Sharsig of the Athletic Club told my attorney, Judge Scott, this morning, that their attorney had entered the suit for alleged damages for $1,000 without their consent, and it will be consequently withdrawn, they to pay all costs. This was done at their own option at my attorney's office to day. So much for the pile-driver's efforts to belittle moverney the grant of the heart of the heart of the sample of the customary answer of the will have to pay for all privileges. will have to pay for all privileges. He refused to publish the customary announcement of today's game, and I have withdrawn my advertising. If they choose to allow their pile-driver to attack me indiscriminately in their columns, I can transact my business with other newspapers. The observation that I attempted to 'squeeze' the public on a 50-cent tariff is simply a lie. I am one of eight members of the American Association who placed the tariff at 50 cents, and there was no squeeze."

The ball game between the Athletics and the Browns at Sportsman's Park yesterday was exciting a bit towards the end because of make two scores in the seventh and one in the eighth inning. The Athletics showed Weyling and Townsend and the Browns King and Boyle as batteries. St. Louis scored 6 runs, 7 hits and 7 errors and the Athletics 5 runs, 8 hits and 3 errors. Goldsmith umpired.

Umpire Kelly's Delightful Ways.

From the Detroit Free Press.

The second time that Kelly called Conway out on strike in yesterday's game when the out on strike in yesterday's game when the third strike was called on a ball that whizzed by the batter's head, the usually impassive Conway flung his bat upon the ground with a sreater show of anger than he ever before exhibited in a ball game.

'That will cost you $10,'' said Umpire Kelly, as the normal red of his face grew redder.

'That's a niee way to do,' said Brouthers.

'You shut up or I'll fine you the limit,'' said Kelly.

"You shut up or I'll fine you the limit," said Kelly.

"That's too high," said Bennett, referring to a pitched ball on which a strike was called.

"Now, if you ducks make any more breaks I'll fine you to the limit," said Kelly, in his expressive and graceful way.

"Get 'em down there, Kell Get 'em down!" chirped O'Rourke from the coaching line, referring to a strike the umpire had called on a New York batter. Kelly grinned at O'Rourke, but said not a word. And thus it went throughout the game. The Detroits were threatened with the limit at every turn, while the New Yorkers kicked and escaped even a warning.

the New Yorkers kicked and escaped even a warning.

It is certainly a hardship that a sober, industrious, hard-working young man like Pete Conway should suffer finsheis! loss through an umpire like Helly, who is unable to do his work properly and makes the most outrageous decisions in every game.

What the National League should do at the next meeting is to make a rule imposing fines on umpires who through excessive induigence in drink unfit themselves to umpire. Players are held to a strict accountability in this respect, and umpires should be more rigidly looked after than the players.

hopelessly insane, was committed to the State Asylum at Stockton. His insanity is supposed to have been the result of a blow on the head with a bat received during a game nine years ago. Dolan canght for the "Only" Molan when that famous pair heiped the old Mnickerbookers of San Francisco to win the California State championship.

If the atstements regarding Umpire John Kelly of the League staff regarding his actions in Detroit last Thursday night are borne out by facts, he has disgraced himself and the League, and should be discharged at once A player guilty of such conducts Kelly is said to have been would be heavily disciplined, if not even blacklisted, and no exception should be made in the case of an umpire. At Washington, recently, Umpire Kelly was too intoxicated to discharged his duties properly. It is time to call a halt in his case. —[Boston paper. time to call a half in his case.—[Boston paper. The results of the season's work are extremely disappointing to the Indianapolis admirers of base ball, who had hoped, and not without good case, that the local club would be well up to the front at the close of the season. It was certainly not from lack of ability to play ball that the club has made such a poor showing. It contains some of the best ball players in America. It has "put up" some of the finest games on record. It has repeatedly defeated the leading organizations in the League. But all the same it brings up the rear of the League procession.—[Indianapolis Sentinel.]
